

Introducing our new Substance Use Disorder Professional

Joanna is an enrolled member of the Choctaw Nation of Oklahoma and is dedicated to helping indigenous people find direction and purpose in their lives. Joanna comes to us with an extensive background in substance use disorder treatment services. She earned her bachelor's degree in Social Science in 2015 before enrolling in the chemical dependency program at Skagit Valley College. She has been serving the community as a substance use disorder counselor since 2017. She chose this field to help strengthen families. In her spare time, Joanna enjoys being outdoors and spending time with her family.
